

Contributors

Hunter Baker (PhD, Baylor University; JD, University of Houston) is university fellow and associate professor of political science at Union University. He is a research fellow of the Southern Baptist Ethics and Religious Liberty Commission, associate editor of the Journal of Markets & Morality, and the author of three books on religion and politics.

Marc Cortez (PhD, University of St. Andrews) is associate professor of theology at Wheaton College and Graduate School. As a former academic dean and youth pastor, his interests lie on both sides of the divide between the academy and the church.

Timothy Dalrymple (PhD, Harvard University; MDiv, Princeton Theological Seminary) is founder and CEO of Polymath Innovations and managing editor of the Patheos Evangelical Portal.

Samuel Gregg (D.Phil., University of Oxford) is director of research at the Acton Institute.

Gerald Hiestand (PhD Candidate, University of Kent, Canterbury) is senior associate pastor at Calvary Memorial Church in Oak Park, Illinois, and the executive director of the Center for Pastor Theologians. He is the coauthor (along with Todd Wilson) of The Pastor Theologian: Resurrecting an Ancient Vision (Zondervan, 2015).

Contributors

Robert H. Nelson (PhD, Princeton University) is a professor at the School of Public Policy of the University of Maryland. He is the author of Economics as Religion and The New Holy Wars: Economic Religion versus Environmental Religion in Contemporary America.

Gregory Jensen (PhD, Institute of Formative Spirituality, Duquesne University) is a priest of the Archdiocese of Washington, DC (Orthodox Church in America). In 2013, he was a Lone Mountain Fellow at the Property and Environment Research Center (PERC), Bozeman, Montana.

Oskari Juurikkala (PhD, University of Helsinki) has taught economics, European integration, and business ethics at various universities in his native Finland. Trained in both law and economics, he is currently pursuing doctoral studies in theology at the Pontifical University of the Holy Cross in Rome. He is the recipient of the 2014 Novak Award.

Fr. Philip Neri Reese, OP (PhL, The Catholic University of America) is a Dominican friar of the Province of St. Joseph. He is currently assigned to Providence College, where he teaches in the philosophy department and serves as assistant chaplain.

Timothy Shaun Price (PhD, King's College, University of Aberdeen) is Adjunct Instructor of English, Louisburg College, Louisburg, North Carolina.

J. Robert Subrick (PhD, George Mason University) is associate professor of economics and director of the Gilliam Center for Free Enterprise at James Madison University.

Gregory Thornbury (PhD, Southern Seminary) is the president of The King's College in New York City. He is the author of Recovering Classic Evangelicalism: Applying the Wisdom and Vision of Carl F. H. Henry (Crossway) and the forthcoming Only Visiting This Planet: The Lives and Deaths of Larry Norman (Penguin/Random House). He also serves as the first Visiting Professor for the American Enterprise Institute.